Context and decision record

Lumen Initiative 001 develops Lumen Document Discovery 001 for research teams at Cedar Pilot Organization 001. The workflow helps users find approved source passages. This document covers the project charter and gives the team a stable reference for decisions about document discovery. The current review priority is quality; that priority is a stated preference, not a numeric performance claim.

The charter fixes the business problem and names the accountable people. The sponsor will assess the pilot using completed user tasks, documented corrections, and unresolved exceptions. Scope changes must reference this charter so the team can distinguish a required outcome from a convenient addition.

An implementation shortcut is acceptable only when the original task remains observable to the pilot coordinator. The team will retain a manual fallback, document its trigger, and record who used it. A polished interface alone cannot close an acceptance item.

For this project, the team will inspect Lumen 001 Interface and retain the source records behind each material finding. This record must be read using its recorded publication time. Follow-up decisions should identify their assumptions, the person responsible, and the observable condition that would change the recommendation. The document is intentionally part of a fictional evaluation corpus and contains no private customer data.
